

Good News for Delaware Families Who Get SNAP You may be eligible for more benefits

Delaware's SNAP Program Issues Emergency Benefits What you need to know

If you received SNAP (food) benefits in March or April 2020, you may be eligible for additional food benefits (“emergency benefits”) if your household is not already receiving the maximum benefit for your household size. The Delaware Department of Health and Social Services will issue Emergency Benefits to SNAP participants for the months of March and April because of the COVID-19 crisis.

How do I know if I am eligible?

Individuals seeking to apply for SNAP benefits in Delaware may apply online through <https://assist.dhss.delaware.gov/> or by phone at 1-866-843-7212.
